Experience luxurious rail travel aboard the classic 1930's Pullman car Dover Harbor—traveling to Chicago, IL.

Your trip starts on Wednesday, October 28th with an mid-morning departure from Washington DC's Union Station with the Cardinal, on a scenic journey into the Blue Ridge. Enjoy lunch as we travel through rural Virginia. In the afternoon our train travels through Staunton, Clifton Forge, and White Sulphur Springs; you can imagine you are traveling on one of the C&O Railway's famous trains such as the George Washington, which once served this route. Dinner will be served as the sun sets on the New River Gorge. Later, snuggle into your authentic Pullman berth for the overnight trip across Ohio and Indiana. Awake to a freshly prepared breakfast prior to our mid-morning arrival at Chicago's Union Station. You'll have three days to enjoy this magnificent city's sights including the Lakefront/Navy Pier, Museum of Science and Industry, the Magnificent Mile, art museums and much more! And Pullman buffs may wish to visit Pullman National Historical Park to see the historic town and factory location where Dover Harbor was built.

Then on October 31st, Dover Harbor takes leave of Chicago departing in the evening with the eastbound Cardinal. As the sun fades, enjoy dinner, socialize in the lounge, read, play cards, and relax before retiring to your Pullman berth. By morning, you'll be traveling through the scenic mountains of West Virginia. Savor brunch as the train heads eastward into the New River Gorge. Later in the day, you'll have a second chance to enjoy the scenery across the Blue Ridge into Virginia. An early dinner will be served prior to the early evening arrival at Washington, DC's Union Station.
